Preface

The basic results of the 1960 General Election are in this booklet. Four years ago the Congressional Quarterly Weekly Report presented this arrangement of voting material for the first time. In 1959 the figures were expanded to include detailed Congressional District figures on the vote for Governor as well as on the polling for U.S. Senator and for Representatives.

The vote data for this CQ Special Report have been gathered and computed by the Elections Research Center of the Governmental Affairs Institute in Washington, publishers of the biennial county-by-county elections handbook AMERICA VOTES. Under the supervision of Richard M. Scammon, the Institute's Director of Elections Research, official figures have been brought together from every state and from many local jurisdictions.

In gathering these official materials state officials and local elections administrators have been most helpful, in many instances supplying material down to the precinct and even the "less-than-precinct" level. To all those who helped in pooling these figures, Mr. Scammon and CQ extend their thanks.

THE 1960 ELECTION RESULTS

An Analysis of the Congressional District Outcome In Races for President, Senator, Governor and House

ELECTION VICTORIES by hair-breadth pluralities and the shattering of time-honored precedents characterized the 1960 elections for President, the U.S. Congress and the Nation's governorships.

John F. Kennedy won the Presidency despite the fact that he was the first Roman Catholic, the youngest man and the first Senator since 1920 to be elected Chief Executive. He won eight million more popular votes, 230 more electoral votes, 14 more states and the majority in 100 more Congressional Districts than did Adlai E. Stevenson as the Democratic Presidential candidate in 1956.

Yet Kennedy's substantial electoral college plurality of 84 votes over Vice President Richard M. Nixon (Kennedy 303, Nixon 219, Sen. Harry Flood Byrd 15) was scarcely reflected in his razor-thin national vote plurality of 111,803 -- the smallest vote margin since the Presidential election of 1888. Final official returns showed 34,221,349* for Kennedy, 34,108,546 for Nixon, 607,870* for unpledged electors who later voted for Byrd, and 215,140† for minor party candidates.

In 11 states -- 8 won by Kennedy and 3 won by Nixon -- a shift of less than one percent in the popular vote for President would have switched the state's electoral votes:

State	JFK%	Nixon %	Plurality	Electoral Votes
Alaska	49.1	50.9	N 1,144	3
Calif.	49.6	50.1	N 35,623	32
Del.	50.6	49.0	K 3,217	3
Hawaii	50.0	50.0	K 115	3
Ill.	50.0	49.8	K 8,858	27
Minn.	50.6	49.2	K 22,018	11
Mo.	50.3	49.7	K 9,980	13
N.J.	50.0	49.2	K 22,091	16
N.M.	50.0	49.2	K 2,294	4
Texas	50.5	48.5	K 46,233	24
Wash.	48.3	50.7	N 29,975	9

The 1960 Presidential election goes down in history as a striking object lesson to politicians of how important every single vote can be -- even in a Presidential election in which almost 69 million votes are cast.

*The above totals count most votes for the split Alabama Democratic elector slate twice--once for Kennedy and once for Byrd. See Alabama footnote, p. 3.
†Excludes write-in votes.

Presidential Vote by District

An analysis by Congressional District shows that Kennedy carried 206 Districts, including 8 Alabama Districts in which unpledged members of the Democratic elector slate actually received more votes than Kennedy-pledged members of the same elector slate. Nixon carried 228 Districts and unpledged electors 3. The breakdowns:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Kennedy carried	76	36	70	24	206
Nixon carried	53	93	47	35	228
Unpledged Electors carried			3		3

In 1956 Eisenhower had carried 329 Districts and Stevenson 106.

The following table shows the breakdown of Congressional Districts in which Kennedy received a higher percentage of the vote than Stevenson in 1956 and in which Nixon received a higher percentage of the vote than Eisenhower in 1956:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Kennedy higher	127	118	65	53	363
Nixon higher	2	10	54	2	68

Conversely, Kennedy received a lower percentage than Stevenson in 70 Districts; Nixon a lower percentage than Eisenhower in 365 Districts as follows:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Kennedy lower	2	11	54	3	70
Nixon lower	127	10	65	54	365

The following table shows the breakdown of Congressional Districts in which Kennedy and Nixon ran ahead of or tied the percentage of the vote received by their party's 1960 House candidates:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Kennedy ahead	60	48	7	19	134
Nixon ahead	78	80	113	40	311

Kennedy carried 28 Districts in which the Democratic House candidate was defeated, while Nixon won a plurality in 81 Districts where the GOP House candidate went down to defeat. Kennedy carried 178 Districts where the Democratic House candidate won and Nixon carried 146 Districts where the GOP House candidate was also victorious.

Party Strength

The Democratic party maintained its strong majorities in both the U.S. Senate and House in the 1960 elections. But for the first time in the 20th Century, the party gaining the Presidency from the opposition failed to gain seats in Congress. Republicans actually elected 21 more Representatives than they did in 1958 and made a gain of two Senate seats.** The 1960 election left the GOP, however, still far short of its count before the 1958 Democratic sweep:

Election Year	SENATE		HOUSE
	Dem.	GOP	Dem.	GOP
1954	48	47	232	203
1956	49	47	234	201
1958	64	34	283	153
1960	64	36	262	174

On the gubernatorial level, 14 Democratic-controlled and 13 Republican-controlled seats were up for election. Democrats captured 7 of the Republican governorships while the GOP took 6 governorships from Democratic hands, creating a new party balance of 34 Democrats, 16 Republicans -- almost the same as the result of the 1958 elections, when the Democrats held 35 governorships to 14 for the GOP.

Marginal Seats

Senate -- Of the 21 Democratic Senators elected in 1960, seven were elected by less than 55 percent of the vote. Of the 13 Republican Senators elected, six received less than 55 percent. Two Democrats and one Republican were elected by less than one percent of the vote:

Senator Elected	Percentage	Plurality
J. Caleb Boggs (R Del.)	50.7%	2,784
Lee Metcalf (D Mont.)	50.7	4,050
Quentin N. Burdick (D N.D.)†	49.7	1,118

House -- 37 Democrats and 48 Republicans were elected to the House by less than 55 percent of the vote. The result was so close in 16 Districts that a switch of less than one percent of the vote could have altered the outcome. Democrats won 10 and Republicans 5 of these extremely close contests, with the outcome of one (the Indiana 5th District) still in doubt at this printing:

Member Elected	Percentage	Plurality
Horace Seely-Brown Jr. (R Conn.)	50.1%	456
Harris B. McDowell Jr. (D Del.)	50.5	1,890
Edward R. Finnegan (D Ill.)	50.8	2,929
Noah M. Mason (R Ill.)	50.5	1,685
Robert B. Chipfield (R Ill.)	50.6	1,922
In Doubt (Ind. 5th District)	50.0	In dispute
Frank W. Burke (D Ky.)	50.3	1,158
Morgan M. Moulder (D Mo.)	50.1	361
James F. Battin (R Mont.)	50.9	2,770
George M. Wallhauser (R N.J.)	50.2	3,826
Otis G. Pike (D N.Y.)	50.4	2,737
Hugh L. Carey (D N.Y.)	50.4	1,097
Victor Wickersham (D Okla.)	50.0	76
M. Blaine Peterson (D Utah)	50.0	68
David S. King (D Utah)	50.8	3,890
Don Magnuson (D Wash.)	50.0	139

**Sen.-elect Keith Thomson (R Wyo.), who had made one of the GOP Senate pick-ups, died before the opening of the new Congress and was replaced by J.J. Hickey (D), reducing the new Republican Senate total to 35.

† June 28, 1960 special election.

Governorships -- 9 Democratic and 7 Republican Governors were elected with less than 55 percent of the total vote. Six Governors -- three from each party -- received less than 51 percent of the vote:

Governor Elected	Percentage	Plurality
Matthew E. Welsh (D Ind.)	50.4%	23,177
John B. Swainson (D Mich.)	50.5	41,612
Elmer L. Andersen (R Minn.)	50.6	22,884
Edwin L. Mechem (R N.M.)	50.3	1,988
Archie M. Gubbrud (R S.D.)	50.7	4,435
Albert D. Rosellini (D Wash.)	50.3	17,865

Congressional Vote

Democratic House candidates ran stronger in relation to their party's Presidential ticket than did GOP House candidates. The following table shows the breakdown of Democratic House candidates who ran ahead of Kennedy and Republican House candidates who ran ahead of Nixon:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Democrats ahead	69	81	113	40	303
Republicans ahead	51	49	7	19	126

75 of the Democrats and 3 of the Republicans who ran ahead of their national ticket were unopposed.

Of the 243 Democratic House Members re-elected in 1960, 59 increased their winning percentage over their 1958 vote. Of the 131 Republican House Members re-elected, 97 increased their winning percentage over 1958. The regional breakdowns both for gains and losses:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Dem. % Up	33	11	9	6	59
Dem. % Down	26	37	44	20	127
GOP % Up	24	47	8	18	97
GOP % Down	25	5	1	3	34

Totals include 57 Democrats who had no opposition in either 1958 or 1960.

Of the 48 Democrats who replaced Republicans in the 1958 Democratic sweep, 19 were defeated for re-election in 1960, 16 increased their winning percentage and 10 received a smaller percentage of the vote but were re-elected nevertheless. One, Steven V. Carter (Iowa), died in 1959 and was replaced by a Republican in a special election. Another, Quentin N. Burdick (N.D.), ran successfully for the Senate in 1960, although the House seat he had held returned to Republican hands. The seat of another, J. Edward Roush (Ind.) was still in doubt when this Special Report went to press.

Following the 1954-56 election period, Democrats held 54 seats that went Republican in 1952, the year of the first Eisenhower election and the first election under the Congressional apportionment of the 1950's. Republicans held 8 seats that went Democratic in 1952. The breakdowns:

	East	Midwest	South	West	Total
Dem. Gains '52-'60	20	20	2	12	54
GOP Gains '52-'60	1	4	2	1	8

The eight seats the Republicans had picked up were the California 6th, Florida 1st, Kansas 1st, Minnesota 3rd, Ohio 6th and 15th, Texas 5th and West Virginia 1st.

1960 Official Vote In Each State, All Congressional Districts

Following is the official vote in each state in the 1960 general election for President, Governor, U.S. Senator and U.S. Representative, as gathered from official state and local sources. In each state, the total state-wide vote and the percentage of the vote received by the candidates for President, Governor and U.S. Senator are given. Listed separately, by Congressional District, are the vote and percentage won by candidates for President, Governor, U.S. Senator and U.S. Representative in each Congressional District of each state.

An asterisk (*) before a candidate's name indicates he won either the state-wide vote or led or won the individual Congressional District concerned, as indicated.

An "X" indicates either lack of opposition to a candidate or a minor candidate whose percentage of the vote has been computed only on a statewide basis.

Percentage calculations are absolute, not rounded to whole numbers, therefore, some sets of percentages will add to 99.9 or be higher than the conventionalized 100.0

In states where voters register individual votes for members of Presidential elector slates, the vote of the highest-polling member of each slate is given.

†The 1960 11-man Democratic elector slate in Alabama, as a result of an intraparty Democratic party dispute settled in the May 3 primary and May 31 runoff primary, consisted of six unpledged elector candidates who finally cast their electoral college votes for Sen. Harry Flood Byrd (D Va.), and five loyalist elector candidates who supported the national Democratic candidate, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D Mass.). Voters were required to vote separately for each of the state's 11 electors. The highest polling member of the Democratic slate, who received 324,050 votes, was an unpledged (Byrd) elector; all unpledged elector candidates polled higher than the highest Kennedy-pledged elector, who received 318,303 votes. It appeared that most Democratic voters registered their Presidential preference twice—once for pledged and once for unpledged electors. (For discussion, see CQ Weekly Report p. 288).
